A learner who receives an extension must not be unfairly advantaged over other learners. The intention is that an extension does not actually give the learner more time, but recognises that the learner has not been able to use the time allocated.

An extension may be considered in exceptional circumstances.

Recognition of Prior Learning, Recognition of Current Competency, Credit Transfer and Cross Credit Policy

AGI will not apply Recognition of Prior Learning, Recognition of Current Competency, Credit Transfer and Cross Credit either individually or collectively to more than 25% of any programme, (20% for overseas qualifications) unless there is a special agreement with another institution, which AGI recognises as having equivalency with the programme and curricula offered

AGI Education Limited will ensure that relevant experience and qualifications are recognized as prior learning or credit transfer for its programmes and qualifications.

The Academic Director/Programme Leader shall ensure that the provisions for recognition of cross credit / credit transfer for each course or programme are explicitly defined in the programme regulations. It must be ensured that these policies are available to the learner prior to enrolment.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

Prospective students who have been offered a place on a formal qualification at AGI and who already have skills, knowledge and extensive work experience in a profession related to the qualification or course in which they are enrolling are eligible to apply for recognition of prior learning.

RPL applies when there is no formal academic record but a student believes he/she can meet the learning outcomes of courses/papers by providing evidences.

Recognition of Current Competency (RCC)

RCC refers to skills and knowledge that have been obtained outside a recognised institution which is then assessed for competency by AGI.

|------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| Version :4 Date: Feb 2020 | Version :3 Date: May 2018 |
| Version :1 Date: August 2016 | Version :2 Date: October 2016 |

The RPL and RCC must be:

- Valid and can be verified
- Related to the learner's programme of study
- Can recognise the required competencies and skills
- Hold programme currency

Evidence required may include, but is not limited to:

- Portfolio – where the student provides a collection of information assembled in an approved format providing evidence of his/her knowledge or skills.
- Challenge assessment – where AGI allows a student to demonstrate his/her knowledge, or skills. It commonly involves taking a written or oral or practical assessment task(s).
- Attestation – where the student's earlier life and work experiences are formally confirmed by someone else and matched against specific learning outcomes.
- Interview – this involves a meeting between the student and the Academic Director/Programme Leader and which may include attestation.

Application Procedures for RPL and RCC

- The student completes and fills out an application form for RPL and RCC must indicate which paper he/she believes he/she has gained knowledge, skills, training and experience in. This should be done within two weeks after the classes have started.
- 80% match of learning outcomes with the new programme is required during this process.
- The student provides and submits his/her set of evidences as stated above together with the application fee of $150 to Administration support for Cross Credit per subject

|------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| Version :4 Date: Feb 2020 | Version :3 Date: May 2018 |
| Version :1 Date: August 2016 | Version :2 Date: October 2016 |

- Once, the application and fees are received, the Academic Director/Programme Leader or his designate will evaluate and assess the submitted evidences to the learning outcomes of the paper being applied for assessment of prior learning as per the programme and qualification requirement.
- If the Academic Director/Programme Leader or his designate determines that there is insufficient evidence for one or more learning outcomes, then he may set a challenge assessment in which the applicant will complete further work, examination, demonstration or interview.
- In some circumstances the portfolio method may not be appropriate for the subject, task or situation, in which case the Academic Director/Programme Leader or his designate and the applicant may decide on an alternative. The Academic Director/Programme Leader or his designate can advise on suitable ways of doing this.
- Once the Academic Director/Programme Leader or his designate has been satisfied with all the evidences, then the application is approved. Otherwise, the application is declined.
- Academic Director/Programme Leader or his designate will inform the student the results and decision of this application in writing.
- “RPL” or an “RCC” mark is entered into the student’s file.

Credit Transfer

Credit Transfer: credit gained from achievement in a programme taken at another TEO where course content is matched.

Credit transfer occurs when AGI Education Limited is satisfied with the information the student has provided exactly or nearly exactly meets the programme’s criteria, standards and requirements. Credit transfer takes evidence of the student’s prior educational performances and, credits these toward the course or qualification.

Accommodation Information

AGI uses accommodation agents to organise and monitor student accommodation following Outcome 6 of the Code of Practice for the Pastoral Care of International Students. If you are a student aged 14 - 17 years “you must stay at one of our approved homestays. “In most cases, you share some part of your living area with others, so you have to be aware of other people’s habits and respect them, as they should respect yours. If you are not sure of anything, you should contact our Student Welfare Officer.

Homestay (Recommended for full emersion into language and culture)

For students who would like to experience living with a local family this is a great option. Your homestay will provide your room complete with a bed, cupboard, and study desk with lamp and possibly you will eat and spent time with your homestay family. Your homestay should provide you with breakfast and dinner from Monday to Friday and with breakfast, lunch and dinner on Saturday and Sunday. You will generally use public transport to commute. You don’t have to pay separately for water or electricity but your homestay may ask you to limit your use of both as these commodities are expensive in New Zealand. You will be asked to pay for your own mobile phone or international calls and if you have a computer or want to use the homestay computer, you may be told to limit your use as you are charged for use of the line. You may not get the food you are used to, and every homestay has its own sets of the rules about how to fit into their home, but a homestay can be a very rewarding experience. Homestay service can be provided by AGI approved agents.

| Version :4 Date: Feb 2020 | Version :3 Date: May 2018 |
| Version :1 Date: August 2016 | Version :2 Date: October 2016 |

Homestay Payments are to be made in advance.

Please check with your homestay to extend your time and advise the AGI Student Welfare Officer by completing a Homestay Request Form. The Request Form must be completed 2 weeks in advance. Ensure the next homestay period is paid well before it is due. Late payment may lead to cancellation of the homestay arrangement.

Refund for unused homestay accommodation

A refund for unused homestay fees will be paid once you have vacated your homestay accommodation. If you have problems or are unhappy with your homestay, please contact the Student Welfare Officer immediately.

Hostel

For students who want more independence than a homestay, but not willing to take on the responsibility of a flat, a hostel is a good option. You may rent a room or share a room and the money you pay will usually cover access to cooking, cleaning and bathing facilities. In most hostels you can come and go as you please and you do your own cooking or go out to eat. You may meet students or tourists from lots of different countries while living in a hostel. You do not have to pay separately for water or electricity but probably will have a pay-system for a phone.

Apartment / Flat

Students who are staying for a long time may prefer to look for an apartment. An apartment is usually located in Auckland city. Students rent it from an agent or owner and may choose to split the cost of the whole apartment by dividing the rent by the number of people who live in it. In addition, you may have to buy and cook your own food. Most rental agreements cover the cost of water but you must arrange your own electricity and phone connection.
